

For this project, I wanted to play with simple shapes as well as have them interact or have some connection with the structure of the room. I made the room to have gaps in the walls, like blocks stacked on top of each other. Two of the sculptures interact with the gaps of the wall often using them as support. I made one of the sculptures to have holes as a way to connect with the room.

